

Painting the town

Standard-Speaker 5/22 ELLEN O'CONNELL/Standard-Speaker

George Vargo, custodian at First Presbyterian Church at Broad and Church streets in Hazleton, got himself into an unusual position while trying to hang a red, white and blue bow to a light fixture on the outside of the church as part of Saturday's "Paint Our Town Red, White and Blue" project sponsored by the Greater Hazleton Area Civic Partnership. For more on the campaign, see C1.